

March is Reading Month March Reading Madness

This year to celebrate March is Reading Month, our entire school will be having our very own March Reading Madness Tournament of Books. A variety of books will be enjoyed throughout the month in all grade levels.

March Reading Madness Tournament of Books

Each week all grades will listen to the same three books in the tournament and vote for their favorite at the end of each week. The school's weekly overall favorites, The Final Three, will move on to "compete" against each other, with students voting for their favorite book to be the winner of March Reading Madness!

During the last week of the tournament, March 22-26, The Final Three books will be revisited and students will vote for the "Arno National Book Champion" on Thursday. The winner will be revealed on Friday, March 26.

Mr. Zielinski will do a live Zoom reading of the "Arno National Book Champion" during the school day on Friday, March 26 to celebrate our winner and the end of March is Reading Month
