

March is Reading Month Read Around the World

This year to celebrate March is Reading Month, our entire school will be “reading around the world”, by reading books that take place on the various continents or books that teach us about each continent. In class, students will be keeping track of their “travels” in their own personal reading passport! Read around the world with us at home using the travel itinerary below! Each week, find a book about or from each of the continents listed below.

Travel Itinerary

February 26-March 1: South America

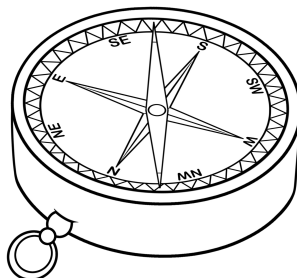

March 2-8: Asia

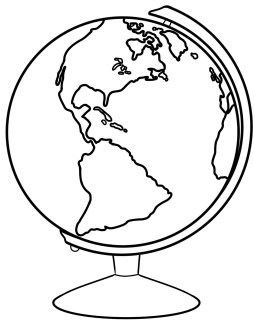

March 11-14: Europe

March 18-22: Africa & Australia

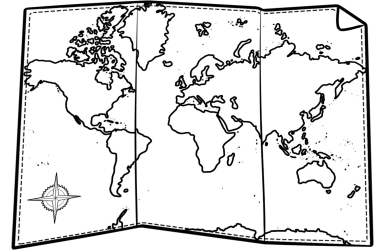

Track Your “Travels” at Home!

Keep track of all of your reading at home using the attached map. For each book you read at home, color in a piece of a continent. Books do not have to be from or about any specific continent to count. Use the attached reading log to record any reading your child does at home. Try to fill as many continents as possible before March 22! Students who return the completed map during the week of March 18-22 will get to take a picture with their map to be posted on the Arno Caring Cougar Facebook Page.
